Actress Ali Landry wanted to plan a birthday to remember for her little girl Estela, who was turning two years old. Once The Party Goddess was on board, it didn't take long for the theme to be set in motion. The party was a "tricked out Shirley Temple number complete with Johnny Rocket's hamburgers and fab Orchid liqueur cocktails." Celebrity attendees included Nancy O'Dell and Marissa Winokur Baker and this star-studded beach bash had the press in a stir. OK Magazine negotiated exclusive coverage on the event and the exposure for The Party Goddess was priceless!
